

2026 Charitable Project Planning

Presented by
CRAFT Guild CLT

Looking for ideas of what to stitch with your fiber friends?
Plan your next stitch-a-long with purpose! This handy guide features a curated list of organizations that are seeking donations.

Ronald McDonald House of Greater Charlotte gives a handmade blanket to each family who comes to stay while their child is receiving care.

Blankets can be stitched or sewn from any material, in any variety of colors. In particular, they need more boy or gender neutral colors.

Classroom Central collects school supplies for teachers and students in Title One schools. Every year, we drop off a donation of hats and scarves for their back to school season.

Hats and scarves can be dropped off to our guild year round, and can be made with any material and color. Email craftguildclt@gmail.com for drop off information.

Preemies of the Carolinas accepts hats, blankets, and inspirational hearts that can be donated at any time.

Yarn must be 100% acrylic and meet the specifications listed for each project type. Visit the “Be A Craft Hero” page on their site to learn more about each one.

Gemma's Hope provides practical resources to families recovering from infant or child loss. Knitted/Crocheted baby hats with matching blankets can be dropped off or mailed at any time.

Yarn must be sport/baby weight and made in soft colors. Visit our Volunteer Page to find specifics and get started.
